About

Your home is your element, but do you know what makes it yours? Warming oceans, global temperature rise, shrinking ice sheets, decreased snow cover, and an increase in intense rainfalls, is just some of the proof that climate change is affecting the environment(<https://climate.nasa.gov/evidence/>). Increasing climate change is causing natural disasters to become a prominent threat to our homes and communities. Trying to remember every item you owned after your house is impacted by a natural disaster takes an endless amount of time and effort. Our mission is to prepare for natural disasters by helping you keep track of the items you own in your home. Keeping a record of your receipts makes it easy to send an accurate record of your belongings to your insurance company after a disaster.

Let's prepare to protect your element from earth's elements.

FAQ's

1

Q: Why do I need this?

A: Disaster can strike at any moment. My Element helps you maximize your insurance returns in case of emergency. It is a small investment of time for a large payback in the case that disaster occurs.

2

Q: Is there an easy way to send my items to my insurance agency?

A: Yes, on the emergency records page there is a export to PDF button and then you can share that directly with your insurance agency.

3

Q: What if I do not have a receipt for an item I recently bought?

A: You can upload photos to the items page and fill out the description of the item (to the best of your ability), including the price and place of purchase.
